

Dear Valued Customer,

For over a decade Vermed has been manufacturing the BioZ sensors for FujiFilm SonoSite (FFSS) and providing service as they shipped direct to you.

Recently, FFSS entered into an agreement with Vermed to take sole responsibility for providing supplies and dedicated customer service for the BioZ products.

Vermed will be your primary contact beginning June 1, 2016. Both companies have worked diligently to ensure your needs continue to be served smoothly, without interruption, and with the same level of care and competence that you have enjoyed under the past stewardship of FFSS.

Rest assured that you now have a dedicated source for all of your BioZ products. Our partnership with Vermed allows us to extend the end of life date support for the BioZ DX, from the previous date of August 2016.

While Vermed will supply your needs for consumable products and user-serviceable replacements, FFSS maintains deep expertise in the hardware of the BioZ DX system. For equipment support please continue to call FujiFilm SonoSite Technical Support at 1.877.657.8118.
